TRAINING (PURSUING)

Frontend Mastery at Besant Technologies
Chennai, Tamil Nadu
Embarked on a transformative Frontend Development journey at Besant Technologies, where innovation meets education. Within this dynamic learning environment, I honed my skills in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and React, unleashing my potential to craft captivating web experiences. This exceptional training experience empowered me to shape the digital future with creativity and precision. Additionally, I gained proficiency in version control and mastered the art of responsive web design, enhancing my readiness for real-world industry challenges.

PROJECTS

Cook.io -- Epicurean Navigator
I crafted "Cook.io—Epicurean Navigator," a flavorful web experience using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. Seamlessly integrating APIs, it serves up culinary delights and reflects my commitment to blending technology with the art of culinary exploration. Making every byte a delightful journey, "Cook.io—Epicurean Navigator" underscores the need for accessible and interactive culinary resources. Bonus: Beyond its recipe prowess, "Cook.io—Epicurean Navigator" boasts a vibrant online community of food enthusiasts, fostering collaboration, sharing, and culinary innovation.
